There is a maxim in baseball: "Don't give the other guy extra outs." Why not? Because then the next guy hits a home run and you lose and everyone's spleen explodes. My spleen. I used to love my spleen. Such a delightful organ. And now, swollen with bile to the size of a roast turkey, it has deserted me for greener pastures. In today's B-List, Buff remains surprisingly calm, perhaps as a result of having been sued by his own spleen.
