Justin Masterson's excellent first three innings turned into a Team Effort Four Innings of Crap™, and the Indians allow Buck Showalter's genius to ooze from every pore of the mainstream media. Meanwhile, except for a couple of well-struck hits by Shin-Soo Choo and Michael Brantley (yes, Michael Brantley!), the Indians' highlights were limited to a redonkulous play by Asdrubal Cabrera. Today's B-List highlights the Homer Pen, Small Sample Successes, and poses the musical question, "Are we there yet?" (No, we're not.)
