The Indians split the last two games of the Twins series in "exciting" one-run form, scoring one run on a miscue and giving up another on another. In the B-List, Buff details what he thinks we've learned about Carlos Carrasco, what we haven't learned about Justin Masterson, what we barely saw about Cord Phelps, and wonders if the Tribe plans on scoring runs ever again.

He also mentions Alex Cole, which is not all that easy to do nowadays.

You're welcome.

FINAL

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

R

H

E

Twins (22-38)

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

0

3

1

Indians (34-25)

0

0

0

1

0

0

0

0

X

1

4

0

W: Carrasco (5-3) L: Liriano (3-6) S: C. Perez (15)

FINAL

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

R

H

E

Twins (23-38)

0

0

1

0

0

1

0

0

0

1

3

11

0

Indians (34-26)

0

0

0

0

0

1

0

0

1

0

2

10

1

W: Capps (2-3) L: C. Perez (2-2) S: Dumatrait (1)

That might have been the most painful wasting of a game-tying Jack Hannahan ninth-inning homer of all time. Unless there's another, I suppose.

[redacted] and banging out