The Big Ten coaches voted eight Ohio State Buckeyes to the All-Big Ten first team for the 2010 season. The writers didn't like the Bucks quite as well, selecting seven for the first team.

In the coaches voting, the Buckeyes' No. 2-ranked defense dominated the selections on that side of the ball, with defensive lineman Cam Heyward, linebackers Ross Homan and Brian Rolle, and defensive backs Chimdi Chekwa and Jermale Hines on the first team.

On offense, it was running back Dan Herron, receiver Dane Sanzenbacher, and tackle Mike Adams selected to the first team, with center Mike Brewster and guard Justin Boren named to the second team. Kicker Devin Barclay also made second team.

Terrelle Pryor, John Simon, Barclay and DeVier Posey got Honorable Mention.

The writers loved the OSU offensive line, naming Boren, Brewster and Adams all first-teamers, with Sanzenbacher also on the first squad. On defense, Heyward, Rolle and Chekwa were selected to the first team, with Homan and Hines in the second group. (They found two safeties in the conference better than Hines?)

Final Regular Season Big Ten Stats (Illinois still has a game to play)

Michigan's Denard Robinson was named the Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year, and Purdue defensive end Ryan Kerrigan was selected Defensive Player of the Year.

Michigan State's Mark Dantonio was voted by the media as the Dave McClain Big Ten Coach of the Year