With the regular season coming to a close, the Big Ten passed out all-conference accolades and individual awards to players and coaches around the league. With multiple Buckeyes being considered for top honors, Monday night had the potential to be a great night for Ohio State. Unfortunately, the Buckeyes fell short in the conferences biggest individual awards -- losing the Big Ten player of the year and coach of the year to members of the Purdue Boilermakers. Here are your 2011 Big Ten individual award winners and All-Conference teams:

Player of the Year -- Jujuan Johnson, Purdue

Coach of the Year -- Matt Painter, Purdue

Freshman of the Year -- Jared Sullinger, Ohio State (Unanimous Selection)

Sixth Man of the Year -- Aaron Craft, Ohio State

Defensive Player of the Year -- Jujuan Johnson, Purdue
