The Indians won each of the games in which they scored a run, running their record to a remarkable 8-1 when scoring at least 3 runs. Unfortunately, they have played 18 games, which tells you how many times they have not scored at least 3 runs. The B-List is on the short side because of other time commitments and the limited number of ways there are to say, "Fausto good, offense baaaaaad". Note: the offense was not the only bad element.
