The Indians won their FOURTH straight game and have guaranteed a series win going into the early game this afternoon. In today's B-List, we look at the fine start by new father Aaron Laffey, marvel at Carlos Santana, congratulate soon-to-be All-Star Shin-Soo Choo, give credit to a fine shutdown performance by the bullpen, and ponder the mystery that is Andy Marte. But all of these things pale in comparison to the MOST important thing that happened last night … at least in terms of the future of the Cleveland Indians.
