Josh Beckett was upset last night that he got to hit two players while the Indians didn't hit anyone, so it was clearly the Indians' fault for … um … I dunno, missing? He pitched a whale of a game, and he's very talented, but why is he such a sexual organ? Is there a purpose to this behavior? Anyway, David Huff made his umphant return and Lou Marson did something unbelievable and generally speaking it was a pretty dull game.

FINAL	1	2	3
Indians (45-62)	0	0	1
Red Sox (61-46)	0	2	0

[redacted]