The Indians picked right up where they did not leave off, beating the Orioles soundly with good hitting, solid defense, and tremendous bullpen work, exactly those things that were missing from the Tribe's weekend set with the Blue Jays before the All-Star break. In today's B-List, Buff looks at the fickle nature of support, the value of a flying start, the last five Oriole hitters, and a short discussion of just what it was that bothered him so much about the three-game losing streak the Indians broke.

FINAL

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

R

H

E

Indians (48-42)

3

0

1

0

0

4

0

0

0

8

11

0

Orioles (36-53)

0

0

2

0

0

2

0

0

0

4

8

0

W: Masterson (8-6) L: Guthrie (3-13)

I am thinking this “Buck Showalter Magic” thing might have been overstated.

[redacted]