Welcome to the 2012 Mid-American Conference Football Preview. Over the next couple weeks we will be going team-by-team looking at the strengths and weaknesses of each MAC team. We start out with three West Division teams, Ball State, Eastern Michigan, and Central Michigan. The second installment will cover the “Best in the West”, the third covers three East Division teams BGSU, Buffalo, and UMass. The fourth installment covers the top two teams in the East, Ohio and Miami. And we wrap up our preview with the two area schools, archrivals Akron and Kent State.
